MEET THE CURATORS

We are Dear Lovers, a team of Southern California Wedding Photographers. Dear Lovers was founded by Andrew & Anna Vanover with the desire to capture love and spend more time together. It has now grown into two incredible photography teams and one amazing videography team: Andrew + Anna, Dani, and Jaime with the desire to be able to serve more couples by capturing timeless memories. Read more about us in our interview with Magnolia Rouge: “We love capturing weddings, but we are far more obsessed with the people we are capturing.”

ANDREW & ANNA

They are a husband and wife who have a shared passion for fine art wedding photography and the beauty of film. Their goal is to work hard to create their best work every time they shoot. Work that is timeless, humble, and romantic. For this reason they shoot in film. Primarily because of its natural ability to capture real memories with authentic emotion.

DANI

She grew up in Southern California and loves adventures in the desert, lemon cake, scenic coastal road trips, floral wallpaper, and a game of frisbee. She believes the sweetest moments are spent with love and her goal is to create imagery that is romantic, soft, timeless, and nomadic. She hopes to illustrate your stories and adventures for your family, friends, and generations to come.

JAIME

Jaime was born and raised in Southern California and since birth has been attracted to nature and the ocean. He was always intrigued with film and its way of creating emotions. He was inspired to capture real love and share that passion with the world. He makes films so you can relive memories and emotions forever and share those with friends and family.
